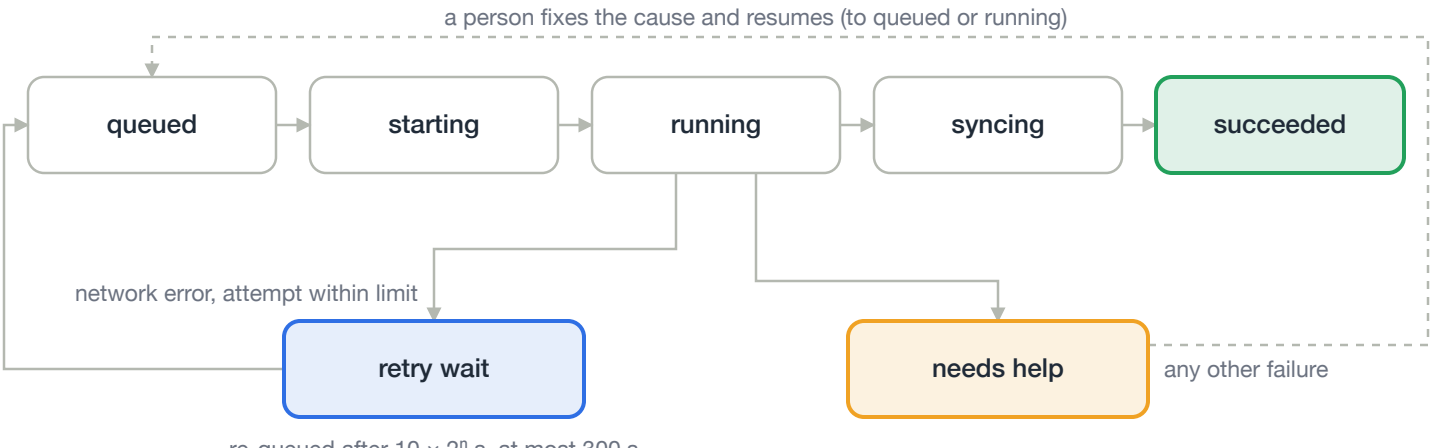
A job retries only network failures; everything else waits for a person



An SSH error while starting, running or syncing keeps the state and waits; past the retry limit the job also goes to needs help.